Senator's wife maintains serene home

By WINIFRED I. COOK

Home News staff writer

Mrs. Con. He never married, and lives within a short distance of the White House, where she can always be found in her comfortable home. She is a quiet, unassuming woman who prefers to keep to herself,

The senator's wife was born in New Jersey and was educated in the public schools of her native State. She married the senator in 1934 and has been living in Washington ever since.

She is a quiet, unassuming woman who prefers to keep to herself. Her home is small and simple, and is furnished with plain, functional pieces.

The senator's wife is a devoted mother and a devoted wife. She is always willing to help her husband in any way she can. She is a very good cook and is always willing to prepare meals for her husband and his friends.

Despite the fact that she lives in the White House, she is never seen in public. She is a very private person and prefers to keep to herself. She is always willing to help her husband in any way she can.

The senator's wife is a devoted mother and a devoted wife. She is always willing to help her husband in any way she can. She is a very good cook and is always willing to prepare meals for her husband and his friends. She is a very private person and prefers to keep to herself. She is always willing to help her husband in any way she can.