WORKSHOP

Searching in the New PubMed

Wednesday, June 24, 2020
10:00 – 11:00 AM
Online via Webex

Meredith Parker
Life Sciences Instruction Librarian

PubMed, the premier database of biomedical and life sciences literature maintained by the U.S. National Library of Medicine, has been recently updated. Attend this workshop to learn more about basic search strategies in the New PubMed, including searching with MeSH, accessing full-text articles, searching for specific authors, citations, or source types, saving searches, and more.
