Truth and Consequences: What We Know and Why It Matters

Tuesday, April 4 - 7:00 pm

Douglass Student Center, Traves Hall
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey
100 George Street, New Brunswick

Joy Reid is a national correspondent, host of AM Joy, and former host of The Reid Report for MSNBC. She is the author of Fracture: Barack Obama, the Clintons and the Racial Divide (William Morrow). Earlier, Reid was managing editor of theGrio.com, a daily online news and opinion platform delivering stories and perspectives that reflect and affect African-American audiences.

During the 2004 presidential campaign, Reid served as the Florida deputy communications director for the 527 "America Coming Together" initiative. She was a press aide in the final stretch of Barack Obama's 2008 Florida campaign. Reid's columns and articles have appeared in The New York Times, the Miami Herald, the South Florida Sun-Sentinel, South Florida Times and Salon.com.

She is currently producing a documentary, "The Fight Years" about the sport of boxing during the 1950s and 1960s in Miami.

Reid graduated from Harvard University in 1991 and was a 2003 Knight Center for Specialized Journalism fellow.

The event is free and open to the public, but RSVP is required.
