Why ORCID?

Stand out from the crowd. Your ORCID iD ensures proper attribution of your work throughout your career.

Demonstrate impact. Your ORCID iD connects you with your scholarly research and makes it easier to find through enhanced author and contributor listings.

Take charge of your researcher profile. You control your privacy settings and who can see your record.

Get it all in one place. ORCID supports automated linkages between researcher and professional activities and facilitates proper attribution of your work.

Don’t be left behind. Many publishers and grant-funding organizations are using ORCID iDs to connect people, places, and things in research workflows.

Simplify workflows. ORCID connects you with publishers, grant funders, repositories, higher education institutions, professional associations, and other identifiers.

Enter once, use often. Information from your ORCID record can be pulled into and across multiple systems.

Rutgers is joining ORCID to build a trusted research environment and to provide greater visibility and recognition for the quality research of our faculty and students.

Create or Connect your ORCID ID today!

1. Go to your Personal Contact Info page: personalinfo.rutgers.edu
2. Click the ORCID tab
3. Follow the prompts

ORCID iD is a unique digital identifier that connects you and your research activities throughout your career.

If you don't have an ORCID iD, get one here. If you have one already, connect it to Rutgers. Click the Create or Connect button to get started.

Once your Rutgers NetID and ORCID iD are connected, you will be able to log in to ORCID with your NetID and your ORCID iD will appear in your public Rutgers directory listing.

GET HELP:
visit: libraries.rutgers.edu/orcid
email: orcid@libraries.rutgers.edu

A Researcher ID as Unique as Your Research.

Get started at libraries.rutgers.edu/orcid
ORCID® is an open, non-profit, community-driven organization working in collaboration with other stakeholders in the research community.

ORCID iDs are increasingly used by funding agencies, publishers, and other organizations to connect researchers to workflows.

Who Uses ORCID iD?:

- AAAS
- American Geophysical Union
- Autism Speaks
- eLife
- EMBO
- Hindawi
- IEEE
- The National Institutes of Health, SCIEnCv
- The National Science Foundation, FastLane
- PLOS
- The Royal Society
- The U.S. Department of Transportation
- And more!

A University Senate Initiative

- Join BTAA ORCID consortium
- ORCID iD for every Rutgers researcher
- Connect each ORCID iD with NetID
- Begin integrating ORCID iD into university systems & research workflows

Timeline

- University Senate votes yes to a University-Wide ORCID implementation
- President Barchi signs off on the Senate Resolution
- Rutgers University ORCID Working Group is charged to plan implementation
- Rutgers joins the BTAA ORCID Consortium
- ORCID iD at Rutgers launches October 2017
- Rutgers researchers Create or Connect their ORCID iD
- The Implementation Working Group continues to explore integration of ORCID iD into university systems and research workflows

The Rutgers ORCID Implementation Team

- David Badger, Director, Information Technology, Office of Information Technology
- Paul R. Copeland, Director of Research Development, Office of Research and Economic Development
- Jim Drumheller, Associate Director, Human Resources Information Technology, University Human Resources
- Catherine S. Florek, Senior Compliance Officer, University Ethics and Compliance
- Jerome J. Kukor, Dean, School of Graduate Studies
- Tin Lam, Postdoc, Office of Institutional Research & Academic Planning
- Krisellen Maloney (Chair), Vice President for Information Services and University Librarian, Rutgers University Libraries
- Jane Otto, Scholarly Open Access Repository Librarian, Rutgers University Libraries
- Philip S. Paladino, Director, Administration and Planning, Office of Institutional Research and Academic Planning

libraries.rutgers.edu/orcid